POLICE PROBE CARRIES ON IN REUTHER CASE

Communist Is Questioned as Search Speeds Up; Call Mystery Witness.

By The Associated Press

DETROIT, April 23—Officers whisked a mystery witness into police headquarters today as they pressed their manhunt for the gunman who tried to kill Walter P. Reuther.

Prosecutor James N. McNally said the witness, not identified, was one who first gave information about Nelson Davis, an admitted Communist, now in custody for questioning.

McNally said the witness told police he heard Davis say he knew who shot the 40-year-old president of the CIO United Auto Workers.

Davis, 52, a Negro foundry worker at the Ford Motor Co., denied that he ever made such a remark. Davis was said by McNally to have signed a formal statement admitting that he was a Communist.

McNally emphasized, however, no charge has been placed against Davis. There is conclusive evidence he was on the job when Reuther was attacked, McNally added.

Held for Questioning

Davis was taken to police headquarters yesterday along with three other UAW members. McNally informed his attorney Davis would be held without charge for further questioning today "by court order if necessary."

The others, Sheldon Tappes, 37, former secretary of Ford Local 600, Percy Llewellyn, ex-president of the local, and Wilfred Grant, left the station after questioning by police officers.

Prosecutor McNally said he had talked to the tipster who gave police news of Davis, and had received "some valuable information." The informant's identity remained a closely-guarded police secret.

"He is the father of six children and leading a respectable life," the prosecutor added. "His name will not be disclosed."

Appearance of former UAW Secretary-Treasurer George F. Addes at Police headquarters also marked last night's developments.

The prosecutor explained to newsmen, police had been informed that on Tuesday morning Addes had been "seen on a street corner in Detroit talking to two men in a red car similar to the one seen at the scene of the Reuther shooting Tuesday night."

Reuther "Doing Fine"

"Addes denied that such was the case and said at the time he was repairing his motor boat at the Detroit river several miles away," McNally continued. "Addes has told me that he knows nothing whatsoever about the Reuther shooting."

While Reuther was reported by his physician to be "doing fine," the house of representatives in Washington considered a Pennsylvania member's suggestion that the un-American activities committee immediately investigate "the Communist situation in the entire Detroit area."

Rep. McDowell, Republican member of the committee, said in a statement Reuther was the second "target of assassins" in the vicinity during recent months. The first was John Bankhead, U. S. consul at Windsor, Ont., who was fired at march 28 when he stepped from his car in the Canadian city.

Both the auto workers president and Bankhead have been active foes of Communism.

CIO Auto Workers Minus Wage Offer

By The Associated Press

DETROIT, April 23—The CIO's United Auto Workers, like its steelworkers, were without a wage offer today.

A six-cent hourly boost proposed to the UAW last week by Chrysler corporation was withdrawn yesterday as Chrysler and union negotiators sought to head off a threatened strike.

The action was taken only a few hours after the U. S. Steel corporation rejected the steelworkers' demands for any kind of wage increase.

Federal mediator Leo Kotin said, however, that the Pittsburgh steel developments were not mentioned at the meeting here despite the close relation of the two industries.

SOLONS OPPOSE HOUSING BILL

Dr. Smith of Marion Among Representatives Against Senate Measure.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 23—House members hoisted storm signals today for a senate-approved program aimed at building 15,000,000 homes in the next 10 years.

As in the senate, which passed the multi-billion dollar Taft-Ellender-Wagner bill yesterday, the house controversy centers around the measure's 500,000-unit public housing section.

The house banking committee pigeonholed a similar senate bill two years ago. Then, as now, many opponents called the public housing section "socialized housing."

Banking Chairman Wolcott (R-Mich) set "full hearings" for May 3 and told a reporter "some sort of housing bill" will pass. He declined to say whether it will make any provisions for public housing, whereby the government would build and operate dwellings for low income families.

Opposed by Smith

But Rep. Frederick C. Smith (R-Ohio), a committee member, told reporters "I am opposed to public housing. I think there is a probability the house will stop this legislation."

Here is what the senate bill would provide:

▶A 500,000-unit public housing program, with government-owned and operated structures for low income families unable to afford houses built by private industry. Federal subsidies would amount to $160,000,000 annually by the fifth year and would continue at this rate for the next 40 years.

▶Clearance of city slums with $500,000,000 in subsidies and 45-year loans totaling $1,010,000,000.

▶A $268,500,000 farm housing program, with farmers eligible for loans or subsidies "if they are without "sufficient resources to provide the necessary housing."

▶Extension of Federal Home Loan insurance, with the Federal Housing administration authorized to insure an additional $2,000,000,000 in mortgages on new construction. Home loan terms generally would be liberalized—for example next year low income families could get 90 per cent loans, with 30 years to pay and 4 per cent interest.

▶To spur construction of rental housing, there is a program of 90 per cent loans over 40 years at four per cent interest. Big scale investors in rental housing would be guaranteed an annual profit of 3½ per cent on their outstanding investment.

8 FIREMEN HURT BY PAPER BLAZE SMOKE

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 23—Eight firemen were overcome by smoke today in a fire that shot through the Central Ohio Paper Co.

Pvt. Arthur Kephart, a soldier enroute to Fort Hayes, noticed the blaze at 3 a. m.

The firemen overcome by fumes included Battalion Chief Joseph Cassell, and Lieut. Elwood Werner.

William F. Boothby, a company official, estimated damage in the thousands of dollars.

Cause was not determined immediately.

Prepare To Move Bodies in Two Delaware Dam Burial Grounds

United States marshals today are delivering notices to relatives of more than 1,000 persons buried in two Delaware county cemeteries, Marlboro and Mayfield, requesting authority to move graves. The cemeteries are to become a part of the Delaware Dam flood control project on the Olentangy River.

New cemetery sites outside the reservoir area have been acquired by the government with present cemeteries to be abandoned.

This is the first step in the government plan to disinter the bodies of all persons buried in cemeteries within the reservoir for removal to new cemeteries before the flood control project is placed into operation and water covers the area.

Most of the relatives have been already contacted by the army engineers for permission to move the bodies to the new sites but notices are being sent out to make sure all were reached.

Actual Moving Delayed

Actual work of disinterment and reinterment will not get under way until later in the year. Hearing of remonstrances against the government plan to move the cemeteries will be granted relatives in the federal district court at Toledo. U. S. District Judge Mell G. Underwood has set the date for June 1.

Cemeteries to be relocated are the Marlboro and Mayfield cemeteries. The former cemetery contains approximately 1,600 graves and is to be relocated on a site at the intersection of the Leonardsburg and Horseshoe roads two and one-half miles southeast from its present location and directly east of the Delaware dam.

The Mayfield cemetery containing approximately 200 graves is to be moved to a site approximately a mile west of its present location near the old Mayfield homestead on Route 229. Both sites have already been acquired, the government land purchasing office at Delaware said.

In addition to the two Delaware county cemeteries to be relocated, approximately 30 graves in the Wyatt cemetery just off Route 23 north of Norton in Marion county are to be moved, according to government plans. The eastern edge of the cemetery falls below the maximum flood line of the reservoir.

Moving of the cemeteries constitutes one of the final phases of the Delaware Dam project. Others underway at the present time include completion of land purchase in the reservoir area, clearing of the acreage which will be covered by the main reservoir pool and construction of the Waldo dike.

The land office at Delaware reported today that between 4,500 and 5,000 acres of the needed area in Delaware and Marion counties has already been acquired and purchase is expected to be completed by the end of the year, tying in with anticipated completion of other final phases of the project.

The Waldo dike, on which work was started this week, is set to be completed in December according to the contract let by the army engineers. The H. W. Holt Construction company of Columbus is building the 6,500 foot levee which is to protect the village from flooding. The Holt company submitted a bid of $105,000 for construction of the dike.

MARION MEN'S TRIAL GOES TO JURY TODAY

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS, April 23—The case of the three Marion men being tried in Crawford county common pleas court on a charge of driving an automobile without the owner's consent in connection with the strike at the North Electric Co. in Galion last fall, was expected to go to the jury by 3 p. m. today.

Both Leo J. Scanlon, county prosecutor, and Defense Attorney Thomas C. Fetter of Marion rested their cases shortly before noon.

Summations were to be heard when Judge Clarence U. Ahl reconvened court at 1:30 p. m. following a noon recess.

The state called but one witness, Patrolman Morris Bowers, Galion policeman who brought the defendants into municipal court in Galion after arrest on charges filed by the North Electric company.

Attorney Fetter placed one witness on the stand in addition to the defendants. She was Mrs. Hilda Schramek of Galion who testified the men were in the Spot restaurant in Galion at approximately the time at which the alleged abduction of two company employes and theft of their truck took place.

Defendants taking the stand were Richard Gibson, Walter Foust and James A. Wilson, all of Marion.

COURT RESTRAINS GALION DIRECTOR

Gives Ruling in Taxpayer Suit Against Official.

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS, April 23—An injunction restraining the city of Galion from paying a salary to the city's service-safety director appointee, John F. Porter, was granted Thursday by Common Pleas Judge C. U. Ahl, in the action filed by a taxpayer, John Drouth, in which he charged the city with "abuse of discretion."

Porter, former resident of Troy, O., was appointed to the safety-service director post "by Mayor H. H. Hartmann at a stipulated salary of $600 a month."

In allowing the injunction Judge Ahl filed an opinion in which he cited Ohio legislation which provides that such an appointee must be an elector and a resident of the county in which the appointment is made for 40 days prior to such appointment.

The 40-day period since Mr. Porter established his residence here will expire May 10. Although he began his duties Feb. 4 his family did not arrive until March 30. In the meantime he has received no pay. Neither he nor Mayor H. H. Hartmann had any comment today on the new development.

The court ruling acted to hold up pay checks for city employes which must be signed by City Auditor Cloyd Frye, and Mr. Porter. Mr. Frye said today he would go to Columbus to seek a solution to this problem from officials of the state bureau of inspection and supervision of public offices. Mr. Porter has been signing paychecks since his appointment.

IRATE PARENT BEATS COACH

Teacher in Hospital After Altercation Over Disciplining of Pupil.

By The Associated Press

NEWARK, O., April 23—A 45-year-old woodworker today was charged with assault and battery in the firewood beating of the coach at nearby Granville High school.

Donald L. Dimick of Granville, until recently a resident of East Aurora, N. Y., was accused of clubbing 30-year-old Larry Petersen unconscious with a stick of firewood.

The affidavit was signed by Mrs. Donna Petersen, wife of the coach. She said Dimick's son had been disciplined Wednesday by her husband.

Newark hospital attendants said Petersen suffered painful head wounds, but that his condition was fair.

A hearing will be held this afternoon in mayor's court at the quiet little college town of Granville, eight miles west, Sheriff Roe Francis of Licking county said.

Deputy Given Story

Deputy Sheriff Clarence Miller said Mrs. Petersen, sole witness to the affair aside from the principals, told him this story:

Students from Denison university practice teaching in Granville high school. The high school youths often cause trouble when students are teaching. In an effort to maintain discipline, regular faculty members monitor rooms taught by students through irregular visits.

Coach Petersen, his wife said, entered such a classroom Wednesday. The class was unruly. He asked one of the youths to come out in the hall.

Mrs. Petersen said the youth caused more trouble and that the coach took the boy into the hall, talked with him and shook him.

She said that last night Dimick came to the Petersen home, called Petersen to the front porch and attacked him with the piece of firewood.

Deputy Miller and Deputy Sheriff John Koontz said a piece of firewood, allegedly used in the atack, was being held as evidence.

Taken to Hospital

After brief treatment at home, the unconscious coach was taken to Newark hospital. Attendants there listed his injuries as at least one tooth missing, right cheek cut to the bone, possible fractured skull, and an eye so swollen its condition could not be judged immediately.

Authorities said Dimick had made no statement, nor had Coach Petersen.

Petersen has been Granville coach about five years.

Dead was Roy B. Rinehart, 50, of Findlay. Injured was Orville P. Routson of Findlay.

Routson said the flames "came from everywhere" after an explosion. Fire Chief Homer Johnson said oil fumes apparently became ignited.

Damage was estimated at $20,000 by Chief Johnson.

Electrical Industry Joins with Steel In Price-Cutting Move

By The United Press

PITTSBURGH, April 23—The electrical industry joined steel today in a big price slashing movement to beat inflation.

Westinghouse Electric Corp. announced price reductions on a wide range of electrical products which will save industrial customers about $3,125,000 annually.

The action came after U. S. Steel Corp. delivered one of the biggest blows to the high cost of living since the war. The corporation yesterday chopped prices by about $25,000,000 on a myriad of steel products.

The nation received the U. S. steel-price-cutting plan with mixed opinion. A member of President Truman's cabinet hailed the action as "very salutory," but union leaders and some smaller manufacturers were suspicious.

Westinghouse said reductions were made possible "through increased efficiency and improvements in manufacturing methods."

Products Included

The firm reduced prices an average of five per cent on electrical equipment which controls and regulates the distribution of power.

The company listed affected items as circuit breakers, complete outdoor substations ,metal clad switchgear of all types, feeder voltage regulators, switches, distribution switchboards, lightning arresters and other protective equipment for transmission lines.

The Westinghouse cut followed by only a few days a similar five per cent price reduction by General Electric Corporation on the same products.

U. S. Steel slashed prices as an alternate to granting the CIO outdoor substations, metal clad round of wage increases. The steelworkers received wage hikes in 1946 and 1947, but Benjamin F. Fairless, U. S. Steel president, said they simply "didn't work."

Mr. Fairless said the corporation was trying "something new" in the war against inflation by lowering prices. He said the new prices, to be announced in a few days, will affect items sold directly to consumers and other converted by customer companies into finished steel products.

Westinghouse Approves Program

Gwilym A. Price, president of Westinghouse, said U. S. Steel's plan of cutting prices rather than grant another wage increase "agrees with our own thinking."

Westinghouse now is negotiating with the CIO United Electrical Workers for a new contract. The union has demanded a "substantial" wage increase for production and maintenance employes.

"We cannot say exactly what the steel price cut will mean to Westinghouse," Mr. Price said, "but any price reduction on such a basic raw material is certain to help bring costs down."

U. S. Steel's action will have far reaching effects on the CIO drive for a third round of postwar wage increases.

Gerald Fielde, secretary-treasurer of the CIO United Farm Equipment and Metal Workers, said in Chicago that the steel move was a "phony price cut formula."

CIO President Philip Murray, who also heads the USW, blasted it is "picayune" and "insignificant." He charged the corporation with refusal to negotiate his steel union's wage proposals in "good faith."

Mr. Murray, who said the USW will live by its no strike agreement with the corporation which still has a year to run, scheduled two union strategy meetings for today.

CONGRESS DIFFERS ON STEEL PROGRAM

By International News Service

WASHINGTON, April 23—The steel industry's twenty-five million dollar price cut brought mixed reaction today from congressional leaders involved in anti-inflation fights.

Two Democrats expressed suspicion of the industry's action.

Sen. O'Mahoney (D) of Wyoming, ranking minority senator on the joint congressional economic committee said "I suspect that this is just a movement in the battle over wages."

Senate Minority Leader Barkley (D) of Kentucky said:

"All of us welcome a bonafide steel price reduction. But the question is whether this decrease is bonafide or is a maneuver to offset the request for a wage increase."

The price cut came as the economic committee neared completion of a report which is expected to touch on the $5-a-ton advance made in certain type of steel last February. The report is expected to be released next week.

Senator Wherry (R) of Nebraska, chairman of the senate small business committee, and Sen. Capehard (R) of Indiana, committee member and a steel-

ASKS STASSEN TO TAKE STAND

Taft, in Ohio Speech, Calls for Opponent's Views on Issues.

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, April 23—Sen. Robert A. Taft and Harold E. Stassen opened another round today in their campaigns for Ohio presidential support.

Stassen, seeking 23 of the state's 53 delegates to the Republican national convention, planned talks in the industrial centers of Akron and Canton.

Taft, halting his state tour for the time being, was to return to Cleveland for conferences and two radio appearances.

Both candidates, eyeing the state's May 4 primary, have spent the past two days campaigning in Ohio.

In an address in Steubenville last night, the Ohio senator again referred to Stassen's contention that he is more liberal than Taft.

Calls for Stassen's Views

"I've been interested to learn that Stassen considers himself more liberal than I am," Taft said. He then asked Stassen to state his position on socialized medicine, federal aid in education and "certain public housing in slum clearance measures."

Asserting that Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) had "delayed" public housing, Taft asked:

"Are these groups supporting McCarthy also supporting Taft? Does Stassen have any better plan?"

Stassen, appearing before the University of Toledo Law School association, last night, told questioners he was opposed to the idea of a third party.

"I think the two-party system gives the most effective leadership and best serves representative government for free peoples," he explained.

He declared, however, the two major parties always should remain open for contest of views.

Indicating labor view differences with Taft, the former Minnesota governor quoted him as saying "the Union (men) are more radical than their leaders in most cases."

Stassen said his own view was "American workmen as a whole are just as loyal, conscientious and sensible as any other group of American citizens."

He adso asserted Taft favored allowing employers in some cases to obtain temporary injunctions against unions, but he believed in limiting such relief to the government.

A third difference, the 41-year-old Republican said (is their stand on industry-wide bargaining between labor and management. Stassen said he favored giving the unions this right, but Taft apparently opposed it.

Taft Gives 6 Talks In 18th District

Special to The Star

EAST LIVERPOOL, April 23—Plainly aroused to a fighting mood by Harold E. Stassen's entry into the Ohio presidential primary, Sen. Robert A. Taft rolled through the 18th congressional district Thursday, holding out the Republican record in congress as the yardstick by which he is willing for the voters to judge him.

Accompanied by the two candidates supporting him in this district, William H. Vodrey of East Liverpool and Harry Cochran of Steubenville, he spoke in six communities between 9 in the morning and 9 at night. Major talks were delivered in East Liverpool and Steubenville. One-hour stops were made at Salem, Lisbon, Carrollton and Cadiz.

Today, after resting overnight in Canton, Sen. Taft was in Cleveland for a round of conferences with Republican leaders and two radio appearances—an interview by Lowell Thoimas at 6:45 and an unrehearsed quizzing on

JUDGE DECREES AN INDEFINITE POSTPONEMENT

Acts on Government Recommendation; Nearly All Miners Back on Job.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 23—Judge T. Alan Goldsborough today postponed indefinitely any further contempt penalty against John L. Lewis and the United Mine Workers Union.

Goldsborough accepted a government recommendation that he impose no further punishment at this time.

Assistant Attorney General Graham Morison said no useful purpose could be accomplished by new fines against Lewis and the union now.

Last Tuesday, Goldsborough fined Lewis $20,000 personally and the UMW $1,400,000 for criminal contempt of court. The contempt finding was based on their disregard of an April 3 court order to stop the coal strike.

There was also a finding by the judge that Lewis and the union were guilty of civil contempt.

Today's court session was for sentencing on the civil contempt charge.

Most of Miners Back

Morison told Goldsborough that 85 per cent or more of the soft coal miners have returned to work.

Therefore, Morison said, he moved that a civil contempt sentence be put off "indefinitely." The judge agreed.

Morison said "the government is quite happy" over the back-to-work movement in the coal fields.

The government attorney indicated that the justice department might renew its contempt charge if there is a resumption of the walkout.

Goldsborough has issued an injunction under the Taft-Hartley labor act. This injunction, or court order, forbids continuance or renewal of the strike on grounds it would threaten the national health and safety.

Lewis' attorney, Welly K. Hopkins, agreed to Morison's proposal that the civil contempt sentencing be put off indefinitely. He said there were more than 85 per cent of coal diggers back on the job—the figure used by Morison.

Judge Voices Pleasure

Judge Goldsborough said "the court is more than happy to know that the normal situation is being restored."

"The court postpones indefinitely any sentence for civil contempt."

"All right gentlemen," Goldsborough said without looking toward Lewis, who was in his accustomed place, "the matter is disposed of, and this court is adjourned."

Lewis came into the courtroom 10 minutes before the convening hour. He walked in, took a seat and then took off his hat. The courtroom already was filled with spectators. Lewis glanced interestedly at them.

Speculation before the session was that Goldsborough would let Lewis off easy this time since most of the 400,000 members of his union are back at work.

After the session, Morison had what amounted to an informal news conference with reporters.

In response to questions, he said as long as the injunction granted by Goldsborough is in effect, any new coal strike could be punished with new penalties for both criminal and civil contempt.

80-Day Injunction

The injunction runs for 80 days—unless the attorney general becomes convinced that the dispute is settled and asks the court to dismiss the injunction.

The government contends the 80 days starts when full production of coal resumes.

Morison was asked if the 80-

Miners Pleased With Court Decision

By The Associated Press

PITTSBURGH, April 23—Soft coal miners received warmly today word that a civil contempt sentence against their union and John L. Lewis had been postponed.

"That makes everybody feel good," said Frank Hughes, president of United Mine Workers district 3 at Greensburg, Pa.

Here is the comment of Michael Honus, district 4 secretary-treasurer in the Uniontown coal and coke region:

"I think it was a wise decision because I don't believe John L. Lewis was guilty. All of our men are working now. This should end it."

CLUB WOMEN RETURN HOME

Marion Group Takes Active Part in Convention at Columbus.

Marion club women returned last night and today from Columbus where they attended one or more sessions of the annual convention of the Ohio Federation of Women's clubs which closed last night at the Deshler-Wallick hotel. An invitation to hold the 1949 convention in Toledo was accepted.

A resolution protesting the U.S. supreme court's recent decision barring religious education in the schools, which originated in the Marion County Federation, was passed. Action of the state organization will be forwarded to the supreme court. A proposal pledging the federation to seek legislation to replace the scarlet carnation with the spring beauty as Ohio's official flower was tabled in the interests of harmony.

County Federation Wins

The Marion County Federation received first honors in its classification in the sale of articles made by the blind of th estate and the Three Arts club was awarded first prize in recognition of its art program this year. The local federation sold approximately $2,200 worth of articles made by the blind of the state during the present club season.

An address by Mrs. J. L. Blair Buck of Richmond, Va., president of the General Federation of Women's clubs, at last night's banquet, brought the convention to a close. Mrs. Buck urged the women to take a more active part in the political life of the country, pointing out that only one per cent of those acitvely engaged in the government of the United States are women. She also emphasized the need for aid to other countries, especially for the children, stating that it is with these children our own children will be dealing in the next generation. A reception in the Ohioana Library rooms yesterday afternoon honored Mrs. Buck.

Mrs. Clarence W. Weber of Marion, chairman of the fine arts department in the state organization, presided for the period devoted to her department yesterday afternoon and presented Wilson R. Dumble, of the department of English at Ohio State university and a former Marion man, who discussed "The Current Novel."

Present Fellowship Student

Mrs. W. N. Harder, chairman of the Margaret G. Harder Pan-American Fellowship, presented the fellowship student, Miss Luz Sotillo of Peru, South America, now enrolled at Ohio State university.

Appearing in the program were men and women who have won national and international recognition in their fields. At Tuesday night's "Columbus Night Dinner" the speaker was John William Hughes, native of Wales, a soldier and author. He urged the sending of better literature and films to other countries in order to give the people in other parts of the world a truer picture of American life. "The literature and films," he stated, "finding their way into these countries portray a picture of this country far below our standards."

Marion clubwomen are active in many departments of the state federation. Mrs. Weber is chairman of the fine arts department and also secretary of the Pioneers club which held a luncheon meeting Tuesday; Mrs. Harder is a past state president, and chairman of the Pan-American Fellowship named in her honor, Mrs. Carl W. Sawyer is a member of the fellowship committee, Mrs. C. R. Penniston is Central district radio chairman, Miss Mary Katherine Smith, district chairman for the Clubwoman, Mrs. A. W. Kette, district extension and organization chairman, and Miss Esther Williams, press and publicity.

King and Queen, Wed 25 Years Ago, Wish Gifts To Be Simple

By The Associated Press

LONDON, April 23—People in all parts of the British empire want to send silver wedding anniversary gifts to King George and Queen Elizabeth, but the royal couple do not encourage this.

"As usual in these cases," a palace spokesman explained, "individual donors almost always give up their most prized possession or something else of great personal value. Either that or they often spend more money for a gift than they can afford.

"Especially in view of the economic difficulties practically everywhere today, the king and queen prefer that their well-wishers express themselves in simpler ways."

Already many congratulatory messages have been received from persons and groups in the dominions in advance of the April 26 anniversary date.

The London county council is taking small voluntary contributions to buy a gift which will be tendered in the name of the people of London.

Cities Prepare Honors

The city of Birmingham likewise has resolved to collect for an anniversary token, which probably will be presented to the king and queen when they visit Birmingham May 11.

Windsor, long associated with royalty, Bristol, Newcastle, Manchester and Liverpool would like to make presentations. In Scotland, where the queen's family roots run deep, subscription schemes are being considered.

Loyal addresses to the king, of course, will come from many communities and organizations.

A London baking firm has offered to make a special cake but there was no indication it would be accepted. Anniversary cakes there will be, naturally, but chances are they will be baked by the king's own chefs.

None, however, will be of such ambitious dimensions as the "official" wedding cake created for the king and queen when they were married. That one, which was cut with a special silver knife at the wedding breakfast, stood nine feet tall and weighed 800 pounds. Its trimmings were among the most decorative and elaborate ever to adorn a cake for royal festivities.

Meanwhile, the nation prepares for its first bit of pageantry since the wedding of Princess Elizabeth and Prince Philip last November.

Anniversary day will not be a general public holiday, as the people would like, but by the king's wish school children of Britain will be dismissed from their classes at noon.

Cathedral Services

Apart from Crown Princess Louise of Sweden, who arrived recently for a month's visit with her mother, the dowager Marchioness of Milford Haven, and Prince George of Denmark, who is a military attache at the Danish embassy, no forgein royalty is expected to share in the day's crowded program.

The king and queen will give a family luncheon party in Buckingham palace, after services in St. Paul's Cathedral, but the austerity menu is limited to three plain courses.

Some fifty guests have been invited.

Buckingham palace will be floodlighted on jubilee evening. So will the historic castle in Edinburgh, in honor of the Queen's Scottish ancestry.

In London government buildings will fly flags and buntings. Similar decorations, with flowers, will color the traditional route of the state drive from the palace to St. Paul's.

Demand for vantage spots—window seats and balcony places—along the way is reported to be much less than it was for the royal wedding precession. Then as much as 100 pounds and more ($400 upward) were paid for choice posts. The highest quotation now is five guineas ($21).

Eagles Lodge Plans For Sunday Initiation

A 101 members of the Fraternal Order of Eagles were present at a regular meeting of the lodge Wednesday night. Five applications were read. They are to be initiated in the "Beat the Quota" class of 25 candidates in honor of past worthy presidents and veteran members at initiatory ceremonies Sunday. A total of 167 members will have been initiated for the year after Sunday's ceremonies, Gene Williams, publicity chairman said.

Harold Haughn, chairman of the Youth Guidance Committee gave a short talk on the committee's work at the meeting, and the following announcements were made: a stag fish fry Friday night, at which time City hospital attendants will be present to type member's blood for the lodge's blood bank, a dance Saturday night and initiation exercises Sunday.

U.S. Bond Selling At High Rate Here

Although no organized drive as such has been set up as yet in Marion county in connection with the state and national security bond campaign which began last Thursday and is to continue through June 30 in Ohio, bond buying continues at a steady rate here, Robert E. White president of the National City Bank of Marion said today.

Mr. White, chairman of the Marion county security loan campaign reported sale of bonds at a monthly average closely approximating figures during the war. Sale of bonds for the month of March neared the $100,000 mark, he pointed out.

At the present time the county is cooperating in the drive through distribution of drive posters and through advertisements in the papers. Plans may be considered to step up the campaign later on however, Mr. White said.

Class To Hear Talk On Religious Education

Week-day religious education in the public schools will be the subject discussed when the Wednesday Noon Bible class brings to Marion next week Dr. Benjamin F. DuVal, a leading Columbus minister, for the luncheon meeting at the YMCA. Dr. DuVal will bring to the class his point of view in relation to the effect on this subject of the recent national supreme court decision regarding religious instruction in the schools. At the luncheon meeting this week, Alexander Martin, Negro attorney of Cleveland, spoke on "Making Democracy Safe."

Roving Reports

NEW YORK

The poet said a thing of beauty is a joy forever.

Sometimes it is a pain forever, [illegible]

But beauty, whether it hurts [illegible] is a daily adventure—in [illegible] city.

The features of a rural landscape you learn quickly. To learn [illegible] may take your lifetime. And in a lifetime all many people [illegible] to remember is a few street addresses [illegible] that [illegible] the [illegible] of a [illegible] similar experiences.

You say to yourself:

[illegible] thing happened to me [illegible] never can forget.

And maybe the same thing happened to the [illegible] you brushed by as you [illegible]

Hal Boyle

There are, in this many-millioned city, always people walking backwards trying to recapture something that is lost. The things people lost here most are dreams they never quite caught up to. The saddest ones are those who've lost the power to dream.

There are two times in the day when New York City is most beautiful. That sentence isn't grammar—but it's truth.

Those times are early morning and just at dusk.

AT DUSK in this town of endless errands everyone is going forward to a hope. Whether he gets it or not is for the moment unimportant. He is on the way.

Behind him is the job his life's in hock to. Ahead is the adventure of evening. A thousand skyscraper windows hold an electric Beacon of Promise. At 5:30 p. m. there is no such thing as failure. The long day a man has dedicated to bread is done—and the night is his own.

It may wear down to an ebony defeat—and probably will—but no man is sure when dusk comes down it will turn into his night. There is always the chance of candles and romance.

There are so many people in the street hurrying toward what they hope for or they fear. And buildings hunched in shadow wait like timeless idols.

Something happens to everybody between the time the sun goes down and when it rises again. But to someone somewhere in this town it will be a day never forgotten. If it wasn't your day today or yesterday—it may be tomorrow.

DAWN IS FOR THOSE who missed something the night before. The city is new in the morning and the slate of life is wiped clean.

The towers shoulder a mist. They stand for all the things you believe in and never quite achieve. They are stone forests of peace—the peace all men seek.

Sometime, somewhere, you will be away from this city and remember it. You will remember it at dusk, and remember it at dawn.

There is no other place in the world like it. And, if you are lucky, you will remember it for something that happened to you in it and left you with a pang you never can outgrow.

If you don't remember it that way—then you never knew New York.

COUNTY SEEKS ROAD CONTROL

Commissioners Ask Army Engineers To Turn Over Highways.

Return of approximately 14 miles of Marion county roads taken over by the federal government during the war for Scioto Ordnance plant purposes is being sought by the county commissioners.

Action by the commissioners this week came in the form of a written request to the Army Engineers Corps, Ohio River Division, at Cincinnati for a conference in respect to returning jurisdiction of the roads back to Marion county.

Maintenance and repair of these roads was handled by the government during the war. At least one new road in the area was built. Since closing of the ordnance plant and transfer of the 12,000 acres and buildings to the War Assets Administration, road maintenance in the area ceased.

Farmers Petition

Commissioners have been petitioned by approximately 75 farmers and residents using the roads for action to secure maintenance which is out of control of county commissioners at the present time. Several of the roads are reported to be in bad condition, having been without attention since the end of the war.

Whether or not all the county roads in the area, or even any of them, will be returned to the county in the near future is problematical, commissioners reported.

One main highway bisecting the area cuts through recently acquired holdings of both the state welfare department and Monsanto Chemical company. Both parties operate under certain security restrictions which may block opening of the Likens road, one of the main through routes across the Ordnance grounds. Other roads that may be closed depending upon the required security needs of Marion's new neighbors include the Victory road north from the main administration area now held by the state for an industrial school, and possibly the Lucas road running north along the holdings of the Monsanto company.

Another Factor

Another factor that may hold up early action to return roads to Marion county was said to be the recent government order withdrawing military installations from the surplus lists of the War Assets administration.

Roads within the ordnance area and under government control in addition to the above mentioned roads include CR-66, the Kenton-Galion road, CR-195, the Linn-Hipsher road, CR-162, Marion-Williamsport road, CR-175, extending east from Fairgrounds street, CR-174, Pole Lane road and CR-214.

Big Steel's New Formula

UNITED STATES STEEL Corp., apparently still tingling from the tongue lashing it was given when it sparked a 10 percent increase in the price of semi-finished steel products last Feb. 19, has laid down a new wage-price formula.

Its announcement that it will cut prices on a wide variety of its products, effective May 1, contingent on a stabilized wage rate, puts further responsibility for inflation in the steel industry in the hands of United Steel workers. U. S. Steel's announcement came at the end of interim negotiations with the union for wage increases under a contract that expires May 1, 1949.

The announcement states the cause-and-effect pattern that has raised prices steadily ever since the beginning of the war boom—first a wage increase, then a price increase, then a further wage increase to catch up to the price increase, followed by further price increases to catch up to higher costs of production. It repeats a similar announcement by the General Electric Co., last March 2, when it refused a third round of wage increases on the grounds that it would have an inflationary effect. General Electric also has taken the position that prices are too high, that it favors reduction but that reductions are contingent on stabilization of wage rates.

These are obvious truths. They have been obvious for a long time. But nothing can be done about them unless they become as obvious to organized labor as they are to consumers, including all members of organized labor.

Who Won the Coal Strike?

JOHN L. LEWIS has emerged from his latest tussle with the government stronger than he was when he started it. The popular notion that he lost prestige and influence is misleading. All he lost was whatever part of his $20,000 fine that will be paid with his own money.

He won every point he set out to win. The settlement of the pension dispute makes him organized labor's trail-blazer in the newest field of collective bargaining.

He proved he could call and maintain a strike in spite of the Taft-Hartley act. The "able and willing" clause that he caused to be inserted in the current United Mine Workers' contracts will plague the coal industry for years to come.

He demonstrated his absolute power over his union—an exercise in the blind discipline that makes the United Mine Workers the strongest labor monopoly in the country.

He showed that the government was afraid to put him in jail because his union's members were threatening to refuse to go back to work if that happened.

He whittled down coal reserves above ground, thereby making agreement to his forthcoming demands in new contract negotiations practically mandatory.

He reasserted his personal domination over the economic system and over other sections of organized labor whose welfare can be made or broken by his personal decisions.

John Lewis doesn't care what the people or the courts of the United States think of him as long as he retains his right hold on the labor monopoly that has made him strong. That hold is now tighter than it was before.

How To Have A House

SENATE PASSAGE of the Taft-Ellender-Wagner housing bill on Thursday puts the final decision on this hot issue up to the house of representatives. The heat is generated by a fundamental difference of opinion about the best way to stimulate construction of new housing units in the United States.

The pending bill tackles the problem with a number of plans to expedite construction by providing government-guaranteed credit and, in the case of low-cost housing, a government subsidy. It uses the financial approach.

The opposition challenges this approach, claiming that the housing shortage is the result of shortages of manpower and materials, not of money. The shortages have created a sellers' market and boosted the cost of building to exorbitant levels—but all the credit and subsidies in the world won't bring down prices. Opponents of the bill say that credit and subsidies would have the opposite effect; they would contribute still further to inflated costs.

They further argue that if they could get rid of certain obstacles, such as union "featherbedding" and tax laws that penalize rental housing, they could solve the housing problem without government intervention. They want to solve it, they say, as much as the advocates of the housing bill—but they want to use traditional solutions. The rebuttal by the backers of the housing bill is that traditional solutions don't seem to be enough; that government help is needed; that the Taft-Ellender-Wagner bill's proposals would make adequate government help available.

Scanning the Record

By George E. Sokolsky

Security Coverage Beyond Legal Bounds.

WHAT happens when the government breaks the law? A federal law is one passed by the congress and signed by the president. Occasionally a law may be valid when not signed or even when vetoed by the president But a law is never valid unless passed by congress.

SOKOLSKY

Some of the administrative agencies are permitted to issue regulations which are binding, but no regulation is valid which exceeds the powers delegated to that agency by the congress. It is true that during the worst days of the New Deal, some administrative agencies went off on a rampage, acting as though they, and not the congress, were the center of legality in this country. Such agencies imperiled our form of government.

When the social security agencies decide for themselves who is entitled to coverage and include those who are not covered by payments, they are exceeding their authority. If a private insurance company did the same thing, its officers would rightly be given jail sentences for misappropriation of funds. Senator Millikin described this situation as "raiding trust funds." For both legally and morally the social security funds are the property of those who contribute to them. To pay out sums from these funds to those who do not contribute to them, seems to me to be stealing money. I don't know any other word for it.

Would Provide Restrictions

H. J. Res. 296 has been introduced into congress to prevent the social security agencies from setting up categories of beneficiaries of social securities which could be projected to include everybody whether they contributed to the funds or not. This would include independent contractors like news vendors, grocers and such who could, by an extension of reason and administrative law, seek benefits without having contributed to these funds. The confusion arises from the fact that whereas congress passed the social security acts as insurance, the courts, in some decisions, notably in the silk and Bartels cases, have legislated that these funds are, in fact, in the nature of welfare, the beneficial character overriding the insurance character. The supreme court, which is bound by the intent of congress, pursued in these cases its own intent.

The social security agencies thereupon sought to extend their authority, without benefit of congress, to include categories of individuals that the acts of congress excluded. This was achieved by the most curious reasoning that has yet come from the administrative intelligence.

Case of Dependency

Their basic assumption is that an employe is an individual who is dependent, as a matter of economic reality, upon the business to which he renders service. This is, of course, as true of the president of the United States Steel corporation as it is of his elevator boy who takes him to his office. In fact, Ben Fairless may be more dependent, for he could not get a comparable job. Six factors determine this "economic reality," according to the bureaucrats:

"(1) Degree of control over the individual.

(2) Permanency of relation.

(3) Integration of the individual's work in the business to which he renders service.

(4) Skill required of the individual.

(5) Investment by the individual in facilities for work.

(6) Opportunities of the individual for profits or loss."

Then the administrators say:

". . . The absence of mention of any factor, fact, or element in these regulations in this part should be given no significance, since the nation's economy is blanketed with many forms of service relationship, with infinite and subtle variations in terms, which render impracticable an analysis applicable to all situations."

From Cradle to Grave

Therefore, everybody is included. It is difficult to see how an independent business man, an independent contractor, a vendor on his own, exists at all. In a word, the social security agencies extend themselves from the cradle to the grave, and acting on their own theories, but supported by the courts, they pay out money that does not belong to them

H. J. Res. 296 is being proposed in congress to stop this sort of thing. Meanwhile, congress has overridden the president's veto of H. R. 5052 designed to protect the news vendors as small business men. But what is really needed is a thorough investigation of the bureaucrat method of exceeding congressional acts, of extending their own authority and expending the people's money without adequate law.

Super-Secretaries on the Way

By Jane Eads

BOSSES soon may be able to get super-secretaries. The girls are trying to set up rating similar to that earned by certified public accountants and certified life Underwriters. C.P.S. would stand for certified professional secretary.

The idea was started by the National Secretaries Association which has 9,000 members in 250 chapters over the United States. In cooperation with the association, the universities of Kansas and Tulsa are conducting research with a view to setting up an examination.

Miss Louise Helfrich, top secretary with the National Savings and Loan League in Washington, is chairman of the C.P.S. committee of the National Secretaries Association.

Tentative requirements for candidates have been suggested by the association's chapters:

1. There probably will be a $15 fee; 2. Examinations would be given twice a year. If at first you don't succeed, you can try again;

3 To pass the exams one must make a percentage of 85 and have a knowledge of office machines. Though the super-secretary may not be required to use a comptometer or adding machine, she must be able to see that others operate them properly;

4. The applicant must have two or three years' experience in a bonafide secretarial capacity. She must be at least 21 and have a high school education.

Tests will be given in commercial law, English grammar, spelling, punctuation, synonyms, definitions, shorthand and transcription, mathematics, accounting, banking, interviews and personality. There will also probably be several elective phases such as foreign languages, legal terminology and so forth. "Sentiment among secretaries," says Miss Helfrich, "is to make the examination's requirements high enough so that we will be proud of the rating we achieve. The idea is to elevate the secretarial profession. We have no intention of organizing a union."

The National Secretaries Association was organized five years ago. "Better Letters — Better Living," is the organization's motto. The initials "B" and "L" figure prominently on the members' pins, which is shaped like spread wings.

Six Kinds of Dollars

VIRTUALLY no one notices the kinds of currency that pass through his hands, but aside from the coins which constitute "change," there are six kinds of United States money.

First, there is the silver dollar, or "cartwheel," now more in evidence in western states than east of the Mississippi. The Treasury keeps 337,000,000 of these on hand to back silver certificates and there are an additional 154,000,000 in circulation. Aside from small coins, these are our only "hard money," although the Constitution mentions nothing about paper currency, possibly because the founding fathers had some disillusioning experiences with Continental currency.

Second is the silver certificate. Silver state congressmen say it isn't a 100 per cent honest dollar because it is issued against silver on the basis of $1.29 an ounce whereas the Treasury price for silver is 90.5 cents an ounce. Furthermore, about one-fourth of the 1,800,000,000 ounces of silver against which the certificates are issued has been lend-leased to foreign governments and isn't available on demand.

Third is the United States note, which constitutes $322,000,000 of our currency. These were the greenbacks of Civil War days. They bear no interest and have no hard money or other collateral backing.

Next is national bank currency, which is being retired. Only about $100,000,000 is yet outstanding. These are another Civil War development which came when Congress authorized national banks to issue currency against government bonds they held.

The fifth kind of currency is the federal reserve note, authorized by Congress in 1913 when the Federal Resere Bank system was organized.

The sixth type is not currency in the literal sense, but is the bank check by which most business is transacted.

Meat in Argentina

By The Associated Press

BUENOS AIRES—People who live here are proud of Argentine meat—and prove it by eating an average 25 pounds a month each. Since a lot of the three million inhabitants of the city are children, this means the adults eat more than a pound of meat a day. The U. S. average is only three ounces.

The average consumption of meat is nearly twice the bread average—12 pounds of bread per month compared to 25 pounds of meat. One reason is that the great number of Italians here eat spaghetti instead of bread.

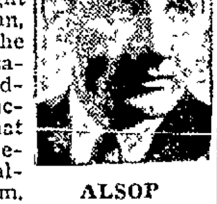
Ambassador's Tantrum

By Joseph Alsop

WASHINGTON

THE happy outcome of the Italian election has done little to lessen the extreme nervous tension of the policy-making groups in Washington and other friendly capitals. The explanation of this and other recent, seemingly mysterious phenomena is all too simple. Highly placed representatives of the Soviet Union have lately begun to threaten naked acts of aggression.



ALSOP

A little more than a fortnight ago in Teheran, for example, the Soviet ambassador to Iran, Sadchikov, succumbed to what can only be described as a calculated tantrum. Sadchikov was almost certainly sent to the Persian capital in the first instance because his knack for roaring out menaces was considered likely to intimidate the members of the Iranian government, which he has repeatedly tried to do. In the present instance, however, his chosen victim was a diplomatic colleague.

This wholly inoffensive individual, whose country has not the remotest part in the Soviet quarrel with Iran, was treated to a tirade calculated to turn any normal ambassador pea-green with horror.

Sadchikov's theme was the come-uppance in store for the wretched Iranians, who were cooperating with the American imperialists and obstructing the glorious onward march of the people's democracy.

Predicted Invasion

Sadchikov said flatly that Soviet forces would shortly invade Iran. He dwelt at some length on the strength of the Red army units now poised on the Iranian frontier. He predicted that the occupation of Iran would be a very easy business. And he hinted that when Iran had been successfully occupied, those who had unwisely opposed the Kremlin's wishes would learn to regret what they had done.

Not even the diplomacy of Adolf Hitler shows any parallel for this incredible episode. Yet there was another roughly similar episode, involving another Soviet diplomat whose name cannot be disclosed, shortly prior to the rape of Czechoslovakia. This episode was the explanation of the violent fit of nerves in Scandinavia and of President Truman's and Secretary Marshall's warnings of danger to Scandinavia, which coincided with the Czech crisis.

Preliminaries Attended To

In this case also, the Soviet diplomat involved selected a colleague not directly implicated as the recipient of his confidences. He began by predicting that the installation of a people's democracy at Prague would take place shortly, by force if necessary. He then expatiated on the sins of Scandinavia and pretty plainly stated that Norway and Denmark were next after Czechoslovakia on the Kremlin's list.

This obviously planned indiscretion began to cause the utmost alarm when the first part of the forecast was confirmed by the tragic events in Czechoslovakia. The alarm was greatly intensified when the five to seven Soviet divisions stationed in the northern part of the Soviet German zone held extensive landing maneuvers on the Baltic, centering around Rostock, which is extremely close to the easterly border of Denmark.

Denmark and Norway were already full of rumors of Soviet arms, air-dropped by night to the Communist underground. The Moscow propaganda campaign against Scandinavia was simultaneously intensified For some days, acts of overt aggression against Denmark and Norway were considered serious probabilities, especially by the Danes and Norwegians themselves. There is still argument about whether a real invasion plan existed but was abandoned at the last moment.

The war nerves against Scandinavia seems to have slackened for the moment and the comparatively reasonable terms of the Finnish treaty have restored a measure of general calm. But the question still remains, how to interpret these fantastic episodes?

Fortunately, most of the experts believe that this Soviet bluster is more war-of-nerves stuff, intended for the present only to promote the chaos and insecurity the Kremlin desires everywhere. But no one can be sure.

Daily Bible Thought

A good and harmonious life is filled with joy. Long-faced, sanctimonious piety is seldom really sincere.—Ps. 126:2: "Then was our mouth filled with laughter and our tongue with singing."

God is able to meet the need of all and fulfill every desire; it is just a question of your hunger for righteousness.—R. A. Butler.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

The Mad Hat-Wearer Crisi

Do you remember back when a man's ha just a man's hat? Away back when it was a super production job linked up with eul testimonials, technical descriptions and s radio programs?

When it seemed a hat was something man should have without any special sales paign and emphasis on material, design, workmanship, durability, pliability, color tones, &c.?

PHILLI

* * *

Ah, the good old days when a man could listen to what seemed a precise description of what he assumed was a deluxe auto or a yacht only to discover that it was a fedora!

It seems only yesterday when a chapeau was not associated with advertising agencies, bright ad writers, clever slogan builders and flocks of commercial ists and radio jingle composers. No m what you might hear on the state of affairs, you knew very well it was not in way tied up with a boost for a bonnet.

* * *

Now the whole approach in the matter man's hat has changed. You used to step int corner haberdashery and just say, "I wa get a new hat." You bought one for no reason than that it fitted and looked O.K.

* * *

You were not conditioned for the purc by any long sales talks on the streaml cross ventilation, balance, adaptability and number of precision experts it took to tu out, the details of its processing from blue to skull, &c.

* * *

A man buying a hat didn't care who founder was, how many miles the hat covered or whether it could be folded up a towel and packed away in a handbag w quart of gin and some socks. If he liked he would buy it without any information it had been manufactured in a sun-dren factory by contented hatmakers.

* * *

He didn't care whether it had been pro aged, whether it had a good trade-in valu how much it would help a man in lo business.

* * *

A wife told him, 'You look awful; mayb that old hat," and he took the hint; in no he was home with a lid that carried no of instructions, speeches on the Russian or a pamphlet showing the development of particular skypiece, stage by stage.

* * *

He never got a hat confused with a ce a new icebox, a Diesel motor or a flower booth. That was when men were men, hats hats and jingles were Mother Goose stuff. T days is gone forever, it is apparent. Heig and alackaday!

Just Coasting

The Bicycle Institute of America has riding roughshod over this writer's finer se bilities with propaganda about how to ride care for a bike. It's as plain as a pair of han bars that the Institute is leading up to so thing, which is that the prices of automol and gasoline have soared beyond reason bicycles are the answer, as they have bee England and other parts of impoveris Europe.

The injury to this former stunt rider's se bilities lies in realization that it will take n than high prices to bring back the thrill used to come from zipping down hill through dale on his trusty bike. Periodic when no one is looking, he has been sneal short rides on bicycles and begs to report it's uphill work. "If you like the out-of-doo says the Bicycle Institute, "there is nothing n enjoyable than cycling through the country you haven't ridden much, try a picnic where you will have only a five or ten ride. It doesn't take much training though get to a point where you can ride 30 to 40 n without drawing an extra breath."

This is typical. The Institute talks about selection, care and advantages of bicycles, as the claim they are "excellent for diges troubles." It points out that bicycling is a "sn and inexpensive way of getting around to and points to the advantage, for older enth asts, of lightweight models. "The knees sho be kept close to the frame," it advises i spiel on how to ride properly, "not only beca it is more graceful, but because the knee is a hinge that works much more efficientl it bends normally." Someone must have b looking while one of those sneaky short r was in progress. Maybe the knee is more gra ful when kept close to the frame, but when frame is too close to the ground and the ride close to exhaustion who cares about grace?

Seriously, the bicycle deserves to be ta seriously by a society that long ago ran ou parking space for a multiplicity of two-ton au mobiles driven back and forth to work individuals who'd be better off if they cy the same distance and parked their pusher a rack on the sidewalk. But anyone who thi it's going to happen because the price of ga line is being boosted in an apparent effor curtail the use of automobiles has missed point completely. Either that or it has been years since he hopped on a good old bicycl ouch—and pedaled the blasted thing—cre creak—to the corner and back—wheeze, whe

DRAFT PASSAGE BY LARGE MARGIN SEEN

By International News Service

WASHINGTON, April 23 — President Truman's request for new draft legislation appears likely to receive an overwhelming vote of approval from the house armed services committee.

The committee is regarded as certain to approve, probably within the next 10 days, a bill providing for the induction into the armed services of men aged 19 through 25.

A committee poll revealed that of the 33 members on the group, 15 of those who could be reached said they will vote for the legislation, three will vote against and four are undecided.

Estimates are that the draft bill sponsored by Rep. Andrews (R-NH), committee chairman, might receive as many as 25 votes, a better than 3 to 1 majority.

If the bill is reported out by the committee next week, it may be called up in the house by the leadership the following week. The committee plans to complete its public hearings this week and begin closed sessions on the bill next Thursday.

The Andrews bill also sets a ceiling of two million six thousand officers and men for the armed services, an increase of 621,500 men over the existing strength of the Army, Navy and Air Force.

Men aged 19 through 30 would be required to register for the draft. The administration originally had requested that men through 44 be registered. The senate armed services committee had voted to limit registration to men of draftable ages.

The senate committee has completed its public hearings and is now discussing its bill behind closed doors. No decision has yet been reached on whether to report out a one-package bill containing both selective service and UMT, as requested by the armed services.

In Plain Words

By James Marlo

WILLIAM AVERELL HARRIMAN, newly appointed roving ambassador under the European recovery program, says there has been over emphasis on Russian strength and western European weakness.

The former American ambassador to Moscow, who recently told a congressional committee, that the Soviet Union is a "greater menace than Hitler was," holds that if the U.S.A. can get Europe back on its feet, there will be no need to fear pressures from the east. He is confident the Marshall plan will succeed.

James Marlow

The belief that a strong western Europe will be a bulwark against Communist aggression is, of course, the basis of the Marshall plan. And there certainly is much to encourage the hope of success — notably the smashing defeat of the Bolshevists in the Italian national elections.

However, we shall make a terrible mistake if we let optimism lessen our fears of bolshevism. As Mr. Harriman has truly observed, it's a "greater menace than Hitler was"—and the Nazi dictator was within a hair's breadth of conquering Europe.

Had Hitler succeeded, then would have come the deluge, with no Noah's ark.

So long as Communist agents and fellow - travelers continue their underground efforts to overthrow governments the world over, just so long will there be danger to free men. That's quite apart from any direct military threat by Russia. Democracy could defeat communism on the battle-field, and still be pulled down by the Red agents and traitors boring from within.

STILL, IT'S AN encouraging fact that many parts of western Europe are making good progress toward economic recovery. This undoubtedly will be speeded up greatly as the Marshall plan swings into action.

The period of greatest danger is likely to be during the next three or four years, until economic recovery has progressed to a point which will permit of military preparedness against aggression. While western Europe on the whole is doing well, it is a long way from being able to equip itself with the sinews of war at this juncture. It must be remembered that, quite apart from the terrible destruction by war in many countries, much of the invaded territory was stripped by Hitler. It's going to take time to repair this damage.

One of the most hopeful aspects of this situation lies in a fact which isn't generally realized. This is that Great Britain, while in very bad shape economically, has managed to maintain a well balanced military striking force.

BRITAIN'S DEFENSE policy was outlined a couple of months ago in a white paper which said that in the present situation, where the United Nations isn't yet able to enforce peace, the best deterrent to war is tangible evidence of Britain's intention and ability to withstand attack. The statement went on to say that whether it is a question of self-defense or of support of the UN, it is necessary to maintain British forces in peace-time to deter aggression which might lead to war.

Pursuing that policy, John Bull has strengthen his air force. His Navy, which once enabled him to boast that "Britannia Rules the Waves," is getting back in shape. He still maintains conscription and has nearly a million men der arms, including units in v ous parts of the world. So J isn't in bad shape at all, in res to his fighting forces, altho obviously he would be too w industrially to provide all the teriel needed to supply t forces.

Thus, all in all, Western rope frames up exceedingly as a barrier against Commu expansion by aggression. Ru certainly would think long hard before challenging this co tion militarily.

Love's Perilous Path

By ADELE GARRISON

"I'M already on my way," I told my husband, hurrying through the outside door of my father's wing. "Where are Katie and Mrs. Ticer?"

"In the kitchen, waiting for you," he said, "but I wish you'd look up 'K.' He's somewhere around, but I don't know just where. Ask him to come over here when he can, and relieve me."

I tried to look as if this were a genuine message instead of a rehearsed one for I knew that "K." was waiting for me somewhere in the passage. But Georges had seized on another part of Dicky's sentence.

"'Relieve you'," he repeated. "One would think I was a chained tiger with keepers."

"You're something more important," Dicky began, and I knew by his voice that his old irritation at Georges was mounting. I wanted to separate the two men a soon as I possibly could, and I was glad indeed when, as I turned a corner of the corridor, I saw Mr. "K." waiting for me.

"We can talk here," I said, turning into Dicky's room, and closing the door. "And I must talk fast. I am afraid my husband is getting a bit fatigued with our royal playboy, and I want to have you relieve him as soon as possible."

"Just as soon as you have finished telling me what you wish of me," the FBI man said courteously.

"I must tell you something else first," I said. "I know that nothing ever surprises you, but I'd like you to know this ahead of time, so you can sort out your reactions. Georges is going to ask you to be best man at his wedding."

The FBI man's mask slipped ever so little.

"No!" he exclaimed.

"I'm sorry, but yes," I told him, smiling, "and the worst of it is that for several reasons which I haven't time to tell you now, it appears to be the best solution of a troublesome problem. Georges probably will tell you all about it himself. But I must ask you not to mention it to Dicky until I get a chance to tell him myself."

"I can see that would be very wise," he commented, smiling, "and I will keep quiet. But you say you wish this?"

"Let us put it that I think it is best," I said.

"Then, I am your most obedient servant," he said, "although I can think of two or three thousand other jobs I'd like better."

"I suspected that," I told him, "and I am indeed grateful to you. But I think you will find Georges much subdued, and prepared to be courteous instead of snobbish."

"You must have done a good job on him," he said, and I switched the subject.

"The other thing I want," I said, "is for you to watch for the visit of a florist, a most trustworthy man, who will come over here during the next day or two, to plan the decorations. He will come in the night time. Katie and Jim know him. They will give the word to you, and you will instruct the guards to let him through. I shall put my initials in my handwriting beneath his name on his business card. That will be his identification.

"I am going to see him tonight, on our way back to New York. He is at Southampton, and it is only a short detour down a country road. And he probably will come over here tomorrow night."

"You think of everything, don't you?" he said, and there was a heady compliment in his voice.

"I wish I did," I told him. "And now, if you'll go up and relieve Dicky, I think he probably will fall on your neck in gratitude."

"I know I should, if the roles were reversed," he said with a parting grin, and then I was on my way to the kitchen, where I found Mrs. Ticer and Katie busy with the dishes, and apparently on the most cordial terms.

"I am in great haste," I told them. "Will you please drop everything, and come into my study with me?"

"Sure thing," Katie said cheerily, and the two women followed me down the hall. When we were inside the study with the door locked, I faced their curious faces with a smile.

"How would you like to plan for a wedding out here?" I asked.

Senate Group Ignores Protest from Economy-Minded Minority.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 23— The nate appropriations committee, spite a sharp protest from an onomy-minded minority, called day for the spending of $640,-53,200 on a waterways construc-on program in the year beginng July 1.

The committee approved the rogram late yesterday by a 16-3 ote. It followed—right down to e last dollar—the recommenda-on given it by a subcommittee. The proposed figure, upon hich the senate must act, is an crease of $101,377,900 over the mount approved several weeks go by the house for the Army orps of engineers.

Minority Plans Move

The minority—Chairman Bridges R-NH) and Senators Ferguson R-Mich) and Reed (R-Kan)—aid it will move to recommit the ill when it reaches the senate loor with instructions to trim 200,000,000 from the total.

"This bill," the minority report aid, "proposes that we fritter way money on programs that are et up without the slightest regard or the real importance or the me element involved in a single ne of the scores of projects (that re) included."

To shave the bill by $200,000,-00, the trio said it will recommend that Army engineers be intructed to select projects on the asis of urgency, long-range imortance, completion with reasonble appropriations and that state nd municipalities be made to hare a portion of the expense.

Below Truman Estimate

The committee's figure of $640,-53,200 is $25,415,800 shy of Presient Truman's budget estimate, ut $224,690,675 greater than the mount granted by congress for he current year.

After the senate passes the bill, t must be submitted to a senateouse conference committee to adust differences and then voted on again by both the house and senate

In the list of flood control projects and reservoirs approved in Ohio was the Dillon reservoir to which the senate appropriations committee boosted the house appropriation figure from $1,000,000 to $3,000,000.

No change was made in the house committee appropriations for these other Ohio projects: Big Walnut Creek Reservoir, near Columbus, $600,000, Delaware reservoir, $1,494,000.

NO POLITICS, SAWYER SAYS OF NEW JOB

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 23 — Charles Sawyer said today his nomination as secretary of commerce had nothing to do with Democratic politics in Ohio

He said, however, in a statement issued shortly before attending a cabinet meeting that he will not withdraw his endorsement of Ray T. Miller, former Cleveland mayor, as "a well qualified" Democratic candidate for governor.

He added that he will not withdraw as an honorary chairman of Miller's campaign committee.

Some Ohio Democrats in the house, bitter because, they said, President Truman did not consult them on Sawyer's nomination yesterday to Succeed W. Averell Harriman, told reporters anonymously that they feared Mr. Truman's move would "disrupt" the party in the state,

They said that since Sawyer has taken sides in the May 4 primary contest between Miller and Former Gov. Frank Lausche, Mr. Truman, in effect, is interfering in the party fight in Ohio through Sawyer's nomination.

Sawyer said in his statement:

"The President is not involved in any primary dispute in Ohio and my appointment obviously bore no relation to the Ohio contest.

"As the President's appointee, I shall take no part in the primary. Heretofore, although I took no active part in the campaign, I did agree to serve as one of the honorary chairmen of Ray Miller's committee and have endorsed him as a well qualified candidate for governor.

"Those acts I cannot and do not wish to withdraw.

$100,000 DAMAGES ASKED IN ACCIDENT

Widow of Man Killed Sues Coal Company.

A $100,000 damage suit was filed in common pleas court late yesterday by Myrtle Pierce Stone, 22, of 722 Windsor street, widow of the late Donald Pierce and administrator of his estate, against Paul McAllister, doing business as the C. and O. Coal Yard of Marion.

The plaintiff asks $100,000 damages, charging Pierce died Aug. 21, 1946, as a result of injuries suffered June 20, 1946, while changing a truck tire for McAllister at the High Speed bulk plant. The plaintiff further charges that McAllister was negligent, and that the rim of the tire was defective, causing the tire to explode, throwing the rim against the head and face of Pierce, inflicting injuries which the plaintiff believes ultimately caused his death.

Mrs. Stone has entered suit on her own behalf and on behalf of her 12-year-old son, Donald Pierce Frank Wiedemann and John W. Watters are her attorneys.

"Shocking" Disclosures Forecast at Cleveland

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, April 23—Common Pleas Judge Frank J. Merrick says the public will be shocked when the "whole truth comes out," in the present investigation of the police department.

Judge Merrick, who has taken a part in the probe now being conducted by Assistant Safety Director Alvin J. Sutton, declared "pay dirt" has been struck.

In his address last night before a Chagrin Falls audience, he said the public will have a difficult time believing "this could go on in the heart of a metropolitan community."

Three policemen recently were fired on charges they associated with known policy racketeers.

The grand jury yesterday began hearing evidence uncovered so far in the investigation.

Pledges "Unbossed" Republican Convention

By International News Service

PHILADELPHIA, April 23—An "unbossed" Republican national convention in June was pledged today by Walter S. Hallahan, chairman of the parley's arrangements committee.

Hallahan, a West Virginia GOP national committeeman, said the party nominee would be the "free and open choice" of delegates from the 48 states.

He added:

"I hope that the presidential nominee will be one who thinks in terms of America—who does not expect to spend his time in developing continual crises, both at home and abroad—and who does not seek to regiment or regulate the life of the American people under a Washington bureaucracy."

SCHEDULES UNCHANGED

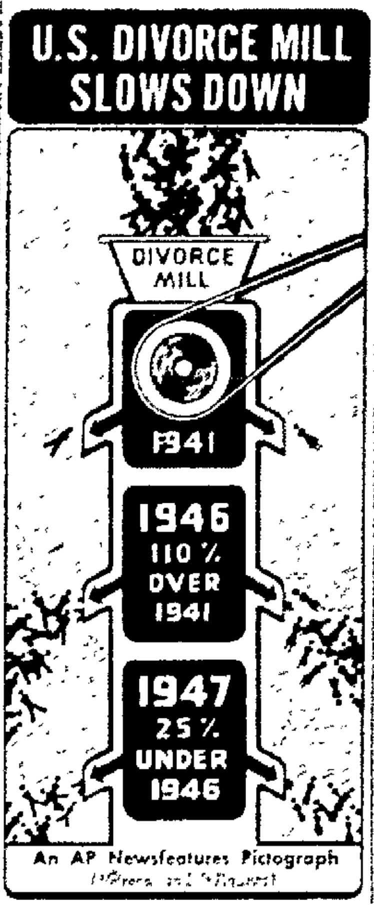
Aside from the discontinuance of an early morning eastbound train yesterday on the New York Central system, changes in schedules to be made Sunday by the New York Central and the Chesapeake & Ohio railroads, will not affect the passenger service here, it was announced today by Robert H. Stief, agent at the Union station. Train No. 420 leaving Marion at 4.05 a. m. and arriving at Cleveland at 6:50 a. m. will be canceled Sunday. Changes in other cities are due to the change to daylight saving time. Running time of all trains, with the exception of No. 420, will remain on the present schedule, Mr. Stief states.

MORE QUAKES REGISTERED

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, April 23—A new series of earthquakes in the Dominican Republic was reported today by Rev. Joseph J. Lynch, Fordham university seismologist.

The university seismograph recorded shocks at 6:55 15 a. m. and 6 59.04 a. m. today.



DOMESTIC GAS NEEDS IN OHIO POINTED OUT

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 22—The Ohio Fuel Gas Co., supplier of fuel to much of Ohio, says it will need 2,400,000,000 more cubic feet of gas for domestic heating this year.

W. T. Shinholser, chief engineer, made that estimate yesterday in testimony before the Federal Power commission.

The Ohio firm plans to accept 15,000 additional domestic users in 1948 under authorization of the Ohio Public Utilities commission.

Shinholser said Ohio Fuel Gas hoped to have 33,000,000,000 cubic feet stored in underground fields by Nov. 1. He said lack of pipe is holding up a new 90-mile 20-inch line near Lancaster. This line would connect the United Fuel Gas Co. and Ohio Fuel lines. Also held up, Shinholser said, is a 20-mile, 20-inch line near Mansfield, which will provide better service to the Toledo area.

The new 90-mile line, said Shinholser, will enable the Crawford station to relay 100,000,000 cubic feet daily at 750 pounds pressure instead of the present 70,000,000 at 525 pounds. Completion is expected Jan. 1, 1949.

The commission did a bit of juggling yesterday under which Ohio Fuel Gas will get an additional 10,500,000 feet a day from Texas Eastern (big inch) which had been going to Texas Gas transmission. Texas Gas will substitute supplies from Tennessee Gas transmission.

The Ohio utility will receive 19,000,000 feet of big inch gas, all the big inch supply now going to Panhandle customers. Panhandle, in turn, will decrease deliveries to Ohio Fuel Gas a similar amount.

Harold Schwaderer of near Marion, arrested and charged with insufficient lights on a trailer, was cited to appear before Judge Dexter Hazen at 10 a.m. tomorrow. Dr. Louis Coverman of Bucyrus, arrested on highway 4 north in Crawford county at 10 p. m., cited to appear before Mayor Hertzer tomorrow charged with driving a motor vehicle at excessive speed.

Y'S MEN HEAR TALK ON RACING PROGRAM

Reed Discusses Activities of Marion Matinee Club.

The annual harness racing program in Marion was discussed by James E. Reed, Marion County prosecuting attorney, at the Y's Men's club weekly dinner meeting Thursday night at the YMCA.

Mr. Reed gave a history of the Matinee club, of which he is a member, explaining that the club was formed in 1945 with the idea of promoting amateur and professional harness racing in Marion. He stated that the Matinee club is sponsoring the meet this year, but is turning the actual management over to a group from Michigan, headed by Orlow Owen. Mr. Reed pointed out that the state of Ohio ranks as one of the foremost harness racing states in the country.

Joseph Yannitell gave a report of a recent meeting of the coordinating council of the Marion Recreation Center which is considering bringing an expert on recreation needs here to make a survey of the recreation facilities needed here for young people.

Guests were Louis Bremkamp and Harold Bonecutter of Marion.

General Electric Plant Started at Logan, O.

By The Associated Press

LOGAN, O., April 23—The postwar trend of industry to small towns has given this community a $2,000,000 factory.

Excavation was under way today on foundations for the General Electric company's new glass plant here. It is to be completed by the first of the year.

The H. K. Ferguson Co of Cleveland has the contract. The factory of steel frame and brick construction will cost around $1,-250,000 and the equipment $750,-000. The project was started the first of April on a 15-acre tract north of Logan, county seat of Hocking county southeast of Columbus.

The plant will make glass tubing for fluorescent lamps.

using industrialist himself, were encouraged by the announcement.

Sen. Wherry, whose committee has been probing the grey market in steel said:

"That's good news, it does two things—it puts steel in a price line where a manufacturer can produce and sell his goods, and it should improve the allocation of steel to small users."

Sen. Capehart called it "a step in the right direction, and long overdue." But he said the industry still needs to step up production and find a better way to give smaller industries their share of steel.

Steelworkers' Leaders In Strategy Sessions

By The Associated Press

PITTSBURGH, April 23 — Top strategists of the CIO-United Steelworkers were closeted today in two-day meetings which are expected to outline the union's future campaign for wage increases.

The 850,000-man union was refused its demands for "a substantial wage increase" from the U. S. Steel Corp. yesterday. Similar negotiations with other steel producers and fabricators still are pending.

The Steelworkers' executive board gathered today with President Philip Murray and the union said the 171-member wage policy committee would meet tomorrow. The latter group usually acts on recommendations submitted by the executive board.

PENNSYLVANIA NEXT GOP VOTING CENTER

By The Associated Press

PHILADELPHIA, April 23 — The presidential derby moves into Pennsylvania next Tuesday with the biggest question mark opposite the name of Harold E. Stassen.

The question involved is whether Stassen—fresh from victories in Wisconsin and Nebraska—can add the industrial Keystone state to his fold.

Only a sampling of voter sentiment is expected at the April 27 primary. With the GOP state leadership frankly playing the field with a big bloc of 73 unpledged delegates, none of the contenders entered for the Pennsylvania presidential preference vote. A blank space on the ballot, however, permits write-in votes.

That was the situation four years ago when Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, of New York, rolling on to the 1944 presidential nomination, piled up a write-in vote of 146,706 compared to 1,502 for the former Minnesota governor. Gen Douglas MacArthur, an avowed candidate this year, got 9,032 write-in votes four years ago.

On the Democratic side, President Truman was entered for the presidential preference vote by the Democratic state committee without his consent. J. Warren Mickle, Democratic state chairman, announced the Pennsylvania delegation of 74 members will support President Truman.

day period starts today. He replied:

"No. Not until we get production like that of the week ending March 12. It would be silly to say otherwise."

That was the last week before the miners began walking out March 15.

A reporter asked whether the present injunction would prohibit a strike over some other issue besides the dispute about miners' pensions. A pensions dispute led to the March walkout.

Morison replied it would make no difference what the strike was about—the injunction would prohibit it because its purpose was to see that "production is maintained."

The government had hinted openly that (A) if the strike was still on today, the new penalty would be stiff but (B) if the strike was over, it would be light—possibly nothing at all.

Income Report Made By Erie Railroad

By International News Service

CLEVELAND, April 23 — The Erie railroad reported yesterday a net income for March of $1,251,106, or 44 cents per share of common stock before capital and sinking fund provisions.

The net income for the first quarter of 1948 was increased to $2,468,049, equivalent to earnings of 81 cents on common stock, by the march total. The net income for the first quarter of 1947 was $997,954, or 20 cents a share.

President R. E. Woodruff said the coal and meat strikes reduced Erie's revenue approximately $350,000 in March and about half a million so far in April.

New York Stock Quotations

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, April 23—The stock market swept on at its headlong pace today.

Many manufacturing shares pushed up narrow fractions to more than a point, some to new highs for the year or longer.

Among issues continuing the upward climb were such leaders as Kennecott, J. I. Case, Caterpillar, American Smelting, Goodyear, Goodrich, Superior Oil of California, American Can, Dow Chemical, Montgomery Ward and Youngstown Sheet.

Several pivotal stocks fluctuated in an extremely narrow range, slight gains shifting to small losses and then reverting to the upside again.

Automobile company shares were inclined to stay out of the race upward. Impending decreases in car production and the possibility of strikes over wage demand deadlocks dampened enthusiasm.

Don't Learn Traffic Rules "By Accident" Chief Advises

"Don't learn traffic rules by accident," cautions Police Chief William E. Marks.

As the kickoff for the May safe driving campaign of the Ohio Traffic Safety Contest, in which Marion police are participating, the chief today invited all Marion motorists to come to police headquarters in the Eagles building and secure a personal copy of the Ohio Drivers' Manual, a handbook of safe driving tips for spring.

Pointing to the rapid and steady increase in local arrests after accidents caused by faulty brakes, lights and other motor equipment, Chief Marks said he wished to emphasize to local motorists that the heavy traffic season is approaching. Memorial day this year will probably see a larger total of motorists on the highway than ever before, and it is the aim of local police to see that this record turnout of holiday motorists does not score a larger toll of traffic deaths and injuries than ever before.

Check-up Important

"It may seem a little premature talking of Memorial Day while it is still over a month away but experience has convinced me that a spring overhaul and check-up of the old family car is one of the things the average Marion motorist is likely to postpone, oftimes until they become a traffic accident victim on our list of injured at headquarters.

"At headquarters a large map of every street in Marion is mounted on the wall. For every auto accident we place a red pin at the spot the accident occurred. For every accident in which a pedestrian is injured we place a yellow pin, and for every accident involving a bicycle we place a blue pin. Our auto accident rate has grown to such proportions in some sections of the city that whole sections of the map look like a bad case of measles there are so many red pins there.

More Bike Accidents

"With the recent influx of juveniles on bicycles on the streets since the coming of spring our map already shows signs of turning blue, so numerous are the pins marking car-bicycle collisions. These accidents are more than pins on our headquarters map. They represent human life, and those lives may well be those of any one of us or our children. Safety is not a laughing matter. We are doing everything in our power to curb accidents in Marion but even our best efforts can be of little effect unless a marked spirit of public assistance makes itself felt among our motorists.

"This is election year," the chief added, "why not give yourself a break Mr. Motorist and try to live to vote in November."

CLUB HEARS TWAY TALK ON BASEBALL

Director of Cubs Traces Development of Marion Team.

In the absence of Municipal [illegible] Dexter Hazen, who was [illegible] scheduled to speak, [illegible] B. Tway, a Cub director, [illegible] the Marion Exchange [illegible] yesterday on a subject near and dear to the hearts of all the club members, the Marion Cubs baseball team.

Mr. Tway traced the history of the club since its organization in [illegible] as an independent team through its various affiliations with the Los Angeles club of then [illegible] its brief affiliation with the St. Louis Cardinals in 1946, and its present affiliation with the Chicago Cubs which began in 1947.

During the club business session the members voted an overwhelming no to the question "Should Marion go on daylight savings time this summer?"

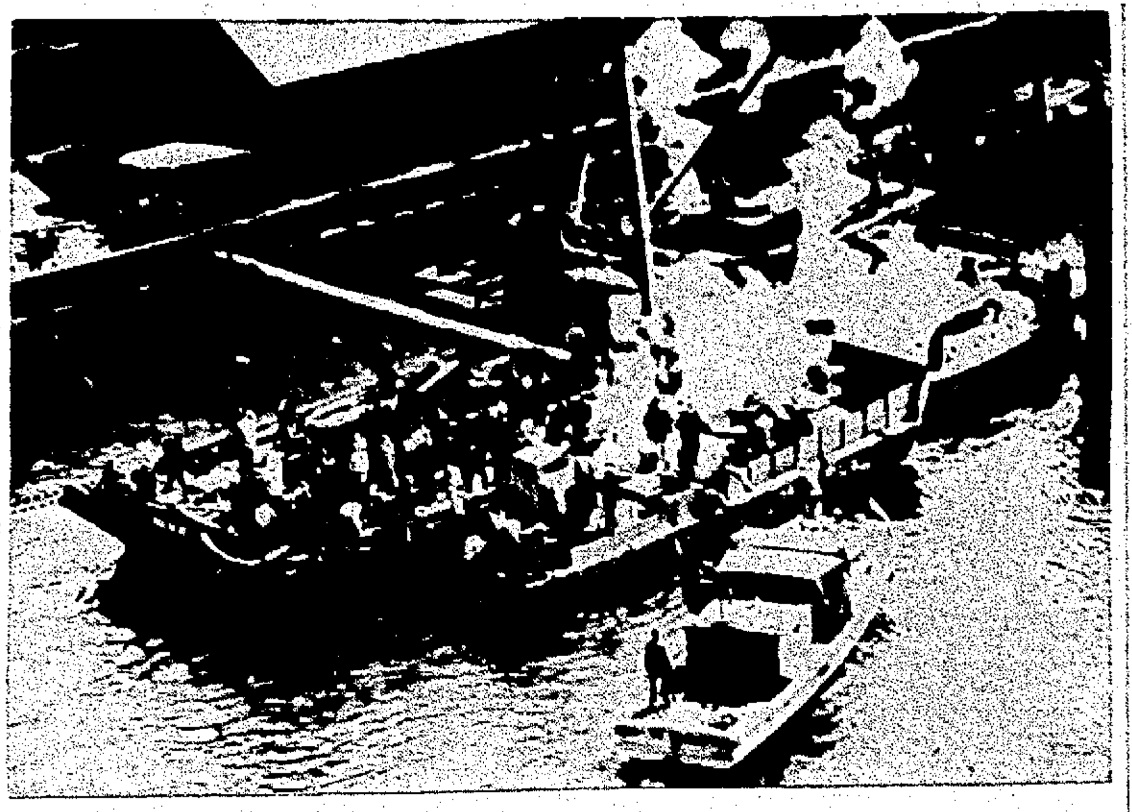
Thirty members were present at the noon meeting at Hotel Harding to welcome new member Clyde M. Wilson, of the Wilson and Sakel, auctioneers; and two guests, Gerald Ginsburg and George Sakel.

$20,000 GIFT TO CITY HELD UNDER ADVISEMENT

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS, April 23—Bucyrus City council has declined to take any immediate action in the proposed gift to the city of $20,000, with the stipulation that the sum be used for a memorial fountain and soldiers' monument to be elected on Washington square, as provided by the will of the late Blanche Lemert Copeland, who died a year ago. Provision of the will was presented formally to council this week by the executor of the estate Edwin G. Beal, who, by terms of the will, is given authority and power to fix the type and style of the memorials.

Council agreed that the offer required further study before action is taken.



TRAPPED DIVER RESCUED. In the channel between Staten Island and New Jersey, rescue workers rush efforts to reach Commercial Diver Edward Christiansen of Oyster Bay, L. I., who was trapped 30 feet below the surface for almost three hours when tons of mud collapsed on him. Still alive, Christiansen was rescued by 14 Navy divers and one commercial diver who blasted mud off him with high-pressure hoses.

MUD TRAPS DIVER UNDER WATER, SAVED

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, April 23—Tons of mud held a 49-year-old diver a prisoner at the bottom of New York harbor for three and a half hours yesterday before he was freed and brought to the surface.

Trapped when banks of an underwater ditch caved in on him, the diver, Edward Christiansen of Oyster Bay, N. Y., told boat crews of his plight via a helmet telephone.

"Cut my lines," he pleaded at one time, "I can't stand it any longer."

Fifteen Navy and civilian divers, working in relays, used compressed air jets to remove Christiansen from the mud and silt that almost completely entombed him.

When finally hoisted to the surface 30 feet above, he said weakly: "It was cold down there. Thank God I'm alive. Let's have a cigarette."

He was laying a telephone cable in the underwater trench, and had reached down to untangle his air line when the mud walls collapsed, burying him except for his head and one arm. He was also pinioned by the cable.

Friendly Sunday Breakfast

TOP-OF-THE-MORNING FARE Fruit Coffee Ring

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

When I was a little girl my uncle and some of my father's friends often used to drop in on Sunday morning to see him and to talk over the crops, the state of the world or maybe just the doings in Our Town. I would occasionally be elected to bring in a tray of coffee to them from the kitchen.

Along with the coffee my mother would send some of her special cinnamon buns — really coffee kuchen that a Viennese friend had taught her to make— or a quick bread that she put together when she first heard the doorbell ring.

It's a friendly gesture, that one of welcoming unexpected guests for a second round of Sunday morning coffee. It's pleasant, too, sometimes, to invite friends for a special "first" breakfast. In the latter case the menu ought to adhere to the same breakfast pattern recommended for every day in the year—fruit, cereal, milk, bread and butter—plus any other suitable foods appetite and budget allow. For nutritionists have discovered that if you don't get about one-third of the day's nutrients in the morning it's hard to make them up in the other two meals of the day.

There's no end to the variations you can make on that breakfast theme—especially for a weekend splurge. A California friend of mine, Essie Elliot, who is known for her fine home economics and nutrition work in that state, told me about a simple fruit starter I've come to love. It's just sliced bananas in orange juice—chilled, of course, and wonderfully delicious.

Sometimes I add sectioned oranges to the banana slices, and I'm careful to cut them just right! First have your paring knife very sharp. Then cut the peel round and round taking off all the white membrane along with the rind. Go over the orange again cutting off any spots of membrane you may have missed. Then insert the knife blade down along the membrane wall of an orange section to the center without lifting the knife turn it, with a twist of the wrist, so that it will cut away the section from the other supporting wall.

Start off with this or some other fruit dish and go on to cereal. My favorite way of serving any of the crisp ready-to-eat cereals is with sliced fresh dates and thin cream.

Eggs in some form may, of course, be on the menu. For some reason or other when we serve ham or bacon with eggs in our family we always want something sweet with it—a preserve or a jelly, or a sweet bread. Most of these quick loaves are best when served fresh and warm.

Fruit Coffee Ring

1¾ cups sifted all-purpose flour, 2 teaspoons baking powder, ½ teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon cinnamon, 1/8 teaspoon cloves, ¾ cup sugar, 1/3 cup vitaminized margarine, 1 egg, beaten, ¾ cup milk, ½ teaspoon lemon extract, 1 cup raisins, confectioners' sugar, 6 to 8 whole walnut kernels, plain or glazed.

Sift flour with baking powder, salt, cinnamon, cloves and sugar. Cut vitaminized margarine into flour mixture with pastry blender or 2 knives to form coarse crumbs. Beat milk, egg and lemon extract together. Add to dry ingredients with raisins, stirring just enough to mix well. Spoon into a greased 9-inch ring mold. Bake in a moderate (375°F.) oven 25 minutes. While still warm spread with icing made by adding enough confectioners' sugar to 1 tablespoon of milk to make a rather stiff mixture. Top with walnut kernels.

Your Good Health

By DR. HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

When Blood Supply to Heart Is Inadequate

Like every other bodily tissue, the heart muscle must have a never-failing supply of the oxygen and nourishment carried by the blood. Because it is such a hard-working organ, its requirements in this way are great, and the blood supply which reaches it through the coronary arteries generous. But sometimes, for one reason or another, the blood reaching the heart becomes inadequate to meet its needs. The resultant condition is known as coronary insufficiency.

An attack of this kind may be caused by any one of three basic conditions—a sudden and abnormal demand for increased work on the part of the heart; a sudden decrease in the amount of blood flowing through the coronary arteries; or marked interference with the oxygen-carrying power of the blood.

Thus, attacks may occur both in conditions which cause overly rapid beating of the heart and in those which cause it to slow and grow feeble. Severe physical exercise or emotional stress would be an example of the first; hemorrhage, of the second. Attacks may also come as a complication of other diseases, such as high blood pressure or toxic goiter, for instance, which put a heavy load of work on the heart.

On the other hand, excessively low blood pressure may be the cause of coronary insufficiency, not because it puts any strain on the heart but simply by depriving it of the blood needed to perform its ordinary tasks. Acute lung disorders, particularly asthma, may also be responsible because they interfere with breathing and hence lessen the amount of oxygen contained in the blood.

Whatever the cause, however, the effect will usually be the same—an attack of pain under the breast bone. This chest pain, when due to coronary insufficiency, is known as angina pectoris. As a rule, it can be relieved by rest and the giving of drugs which dilate the blood vessels. Long-term treatment, however, depends to some extent on the factor responsible for the coronary insufficiency.

If a condition known as tachycardia or rapid heart beat is responsible treatment with the proper drugs will alleviate it.

In those cases of acute coronary insufficiency due to high blood pressure, measures to lower the pressure will be of great value.

Of course, in toxic goiter, adequate medical treatment and, sometimes, removal of the thyroid gland may be required to restore normal circulation through the coronary arteries.

In those cases due to bleeding and low blood pressure, measures for stopping the bleeding and increasing the blood pressure are indicated, one of the most important of these being the injection of whole blood into a vein.

As a rule, it is not difficult to make a diagnosis of coronary insufficiency. However, the electrocardiogram or electrical tracing of the heart beat, usually shows distinctive changes which, of course, aid in making certain of the diagnosis.

It is important that acute coronary insufficiency be diagnosed early, because the proper treatment employed in the early stages of this condition may prevent severe, permanent damage to the heart.

If all persons of middle age or older would have a careful physical examination at least once every six months, many early and unsuspected cases of coronary insufficiency could be detected and treated in time to prevent later invalidism due to heart damage, or even sudden death.

Questions and Answers

N. Mc.: Is there a cure for eczema of the scalp?

A: Eczema of the scalp, as a rule, can be cleared up. It may be due to sensitivity to some substance used on the scalp, such as a soap or some type of hair lotion. On the other hand, it may be due to sensitivity to a food which you eat.

A thorough study by a skin specialist would be advisable.

Marion Cubs Will Meet Lima in Second Exhibition Game Tonig

Games at Lima Saturday, at Newark Sunday Will End Pre-Season Play

The Marion Cubs will meet the Lima Terriers at Lincoln park tonight in the second game of their current exhibition schedule.

The Cubs beat the Newark Yankees, 9 to 5, Wednesday, mainly on the poor pitching performance of four Yankee hurlers.

Afternoon games at Lima Saturday and at Newark Sunday will wind up the pre-season games and the Cubs will be idle Monday in preparation for the season opener with the Muncie Packers here Tuesday night.

They'll be honored guests at the third annual Inter-Club council's baseball banquet at the Harding Hotel Monday night on the eve of the opener.

Nominates Pitchers

Manager Zeke Bekeza nominated three righthanders to pitch tonight, none of whom have had any professional experience.

Eighteen-year-old Ramon Peet, the youngest Cub on the squad, will work the first three innings. Peet, a graduate of Ashtabula High school last year, spent last summer in the Mansfield baseball school run by Cub Scout Tony Lucadello.

Leland Goss of Wellington, O., another Mansfield baseball school pitcher, will handle the next three innings. Goss had no high school baseball experience, there being no team at Brighton High, but has played independent ball.

Ray Burgemeister will work the final three innings. He now calls Blissfield, Mich. his home though he is a native of Matamora, O., where he graduated from high school in 1946.

Bekeza will start a second set of fielders, with the exception of himself at first base, Bill Bolduc in left field, and Tom Gattis catching.

Leadoff Batter

Leadoff batter will be centerfielder Bill Crago. Next in order, Bob Allen, second baseman, Bekeza, first baseman, Bolduc, left field, Bill Bohlander, right field, Tom Neeley, third base, Pete Schneph, shortstop, and Gattis, catcher.

Others slated to see action are outfielders Gerald Peters and Charles Borden, infielders George Hanson, Kenneth Ostrander, Lou Castrovince, and Vito Tutera, and catcher Bob Brauer.

The game is scheduled to start at 8 p. m.

TRACK, BASEBALL ON HARDING CARD

Cindermen at Fremont Saturday; Nine Plays Today.

Action on the Harding High school sports program this week will see the Howison coached baseball team seeking a second win in as many starts when they oppose Caledonia this afternoon, and the six team Fremont Relays Saturday.

The baseball nine, victors over Waldo Wednesday, 19-2, behind the three hit hurling of Johnson and the one-hit job turned in by Daum, will be on the home diamond for the second time this week and will be playing what amounts to a second exhibition contest before they meet Mansfield, away, Monday. Seedle will twirl the first three or four innings and Sieder will work behind the plate.

Coach Somerlot's trackmen, splitting even on two trials with a 69-49 loss tacked on by Upper Sandusky in the first meet and a 65½-50½ win in the second against Delaware Willis, will compete with Fremont, Ashland, Fostoria, Bellevue and Sandusky Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the first annual running of the Fremont Relays.

Cy Young, Tris Speaker Will Be On Hand for Baseball Banquet Monday

The Inter-Club council will give the Marion Cubs their third annual opening day send-off Monday night at the Hotel Harding on the eve of the initial game with the Muncie Reds and two of the biggest names in baseball will be on hand with an expected capacity crowd to celebrate the occasion.

That would be Tris Speaker, all-time great centerfielder, and Cy Young, all-time pitching great, both members of Baseball's Hall of Fame.

Howell to MC

Master of ceremonies for the occasion will be Fritz Howell, Ohio sports editor of The Associated Press and one of the most popular MC's for sports festivities in Ohio.

Jack Sheehan, farm director of the Chicago Cubs will be on hand if he can make it.

Turk Reilly, once a catcher for the Marion club in the old days and now sporting goods salesman, will accompany Cy Young.

And Robert E. Hooey, sports editor of The Ohio State Journal, will be here.

Hooey gave Marion a complimentary write-up in his column yesterday, calling Marion one of the best baseball towns in the United States, and calling attention to the fact that last year Marion drew 90,000 spectators, on many days outdrawing the Columbus Red Birds of the class AAA American Association. He predicts another good year here inasmuch as $8,000 worth of box seats are already sold, and the season won't start until Tuesday.

Team Honored Guests

And of course the honored guests will be the 1948 edition of the Marion Cubs, who will be out to bring Marion its first pennant in the Ohio-Indiana league.

The banquet this year is being arranged by Don Williamson, chairman of the Inter-Club council's baseball banquet committee.

The dinner will begin in the Hotel Harding ballroom at 6:30 p. m. A capacity crowd of 200 is expected and all tickets have been sold out. Extra tables will be placed in the mezzanine to accommodate the crowd.

Harness Stars To See Action Today

By The Associated Press

ARCADIA, Calif., April 23 — Stars of the harness sport are slated to perform at Santa Anita park today in a virtual preview of the $50,000 Golden West Trot May 1.

Named for the San Fernando Valley youth purse at a mile and one sixteenth were Chestertown, Proximity, Kaola, Lingo Direct, Don Scott and Rodney, the latter making his first start of the meeting.

Rodney, giant of the Grand Circuit and a 4-year-old that weighs 1,200 pounds, was a hot candidate in last year's Hambletonian and defeated the eventual winner, Hoot Mon, in the first heat of the Goshen, N. Y. classic.

Chestertown, winner of last Saturday's feature, probably will be the favorite, however.

Tomorrow's card features the $5,000 San Diego free-for-all pace, which also stars several outstanding challengers for the $50,000 special, including Dr. Stanton, winner of his race in New York track record time last week.

Indianapolis Up With St. Paul in AA

By The United Press

Indianapolis was tied for the American Association lead today after defeating St. Paul, leader since the start of the season, 5 to 2.

In other games last night, Kansas City took undisputed possession of third place by dropping Toledo into the cellar, 9 to 3, Columbus pulled Minneapolis into a sixth-place tie, 5 to 3, and Milwaukee beat Louisville 6 to 4.

Despite spotty pitching, Kansas City used its power to mark up another game at Toledo. The Blues scored four runs in the first inning but Toledo came back with six in its half aided by a bases full homer by catcher Frank Mancuso. The visitors rallied for four tallies in the ninth after going into the inning trailing 8-5. Kansas City pounded out 17 hits, one of which was a homer by Jim Dyck.

Al Patterson hurled five-hit ball in beating Minneapolis at Columbus. Outfielder Bill Howerton accounted for two of the Red Birds' runs in the first inning with a homer. Cleston Ray drove in all of the Millers' runs with a round tripper in the seventh.

At Louisville, Milwaukee overcame a four-run fourth inning to beat the Colonels in a loosely played game.

STRANAHAN, WARD FAVORED IN MATCH

By The Associated Press

PINEHURST, N. C., April 23 —Frank Stranahan of Toledo, O., and collegiate Harvey Ward Jr., were favored to hurdle semi-final opposition today in the 48th annual North and South golf tournament.

Stranahan sailed serenely along to his fourth straight, one-sided victory in yesterday's quarter-finals, bowling over J. A. Fownes of Orlando, Fla., 7 and 6.

Ward, from Tarboro, N. C., made a magnificent comeback to defeat Dick Chapman of Pinehurst, the 1940 national amateur champion, 2 and 1.

OWU RELAYS CHAMPS FAVORED TO REPEAT

Springfield, Salem, Oak Harbor Picked To Win.

Special to The Star

DELAWARE, O., April 23 — With defending champions Springfield and Salem Oak Harbor favored to repeat as winners, the 17th annual Ohio Wesleyan Relays will get under way here on the Selby field track at 9:30 a. m. tomorrow.

The famed meet, sponsored this year by the Ohio High School Athletic association and managed by Ohio Wesleyan's athletic director and track coach, George Gauthier, who inaugurated the annual affair, will run until 5 p. m.

Eleven events in each division plus an added feature, the open 100-yard dash, are included on the program. Four-member teams will compete in the 440, 880, medley, shuttle hurdles, and one-and two-mile relays. Field events for three-member teams include shot put, discus, pole vault, high jump, and broad jump.

Unless late entries swell the number considerably, last year's record of 1700 contestants will not be threatened. However, more than 100 athletes will be ready for action as entries from 28 Class A and 42 Class B schools have been received.

The favorite's role in division A falls to the stellar Springfield squad which won the 1947 crown and outclassed the field in the Mansfield Relays last week. Other standouts include Columbus Central and Dayton Dunbar, who tied for the second at Mansfield, and the ever-powerful Cleveland East Tech.

In Class B the Oak Harbor speedsters, who captured the 1947 title, will reign as favorites with strong Poland Seminary, last year's state champions, a distinct threat.

Among the class A entrants are Upper Sandusky, Findlay, Columbus North, Lima Central, Columbus West, Upper Arlington, Delaware Willis and Columbus East.

Class B entrants include Morrow Local, Powell Hyatts, Richwood, Canal Winchester, Harpster, Brown Local, Worthington, Caledonia Local, Marseilles and Bellville.

Sports Chatter On This and That

By FRITZ HOWELL
Ohio AP Sports Editor

COLUMBUS, O., April 23 — This and that from here and there:

More than a football score, perhaps, hinges on the outcome of tonight's football (that's right) game between Hamilton and Toledo Waite High schools at Hamilton.

The two gridiron greats clash in the windup of their spring training grinds, and every one's looking for as much action as last spring's 33-31 Waite victory produced.

Seated in the stands will be quite a group of fans from Massillon, including Supt. J. L. Smith, giving Hamilton Coach Chuck Mather's system the once-over lightly.

CHUCK, as every one knows, has been approached relative to taking the Massillon High coaching job recently vacated by Bud Houghton who moved up to Akron university.

The Tiger throne is the top scholastic spot in Ohio, the coaches believe, but Chuck hasn't given the Stark county school an answer except to ask for a stipend quite a bit above that paid him by the Big Blue.

Marion Cub fans will see a new look in the scoreboard at Lincoln Park, but not on opening day.

The scoreboard will be raised, a hit and error light added, and the scoreboard itself will be lighted, but the work can't be started until the Cubs are on an away series.

The hit and run lights will replace the end-of-game summary of runs, hits, and errors, which nobody stops long enough to read anyway.

Bucyrians Enter Horses in Race

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS, April 23 — A number of horses belonging to Walter J. Michael and Ludwig E. Nestle, local sportsmen, will be entered in the racing events at the Ohio State fair at Columbus.

Michael will send Jewell's Song, a brown filly, to the post in the two year old trot on Sept. 1 and on the same day will race Colonel Jean, a black gelding in the 3 year old pace. Senor Abbe, chestnut colt, will be entered by Nestle in the 3 year old pace, Sept. 1.

OSU To Follow 1947 Grid Ticket Plan

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 23—Ohio State university students again will have first choice on tickets during the 1948 football campaign, with faculty members a close second.

The priority system begun a year ago, said Ticket Director Oscar Thomas, was successful, and will be continued.

About 23,000 individual game tickets will be available to the public.

Here's the order of choice: students, faculty, members of the Ohio State university Association and benefactors of the university, visiting team followers and the general public.

Student books will cost $10, faculty books $12. To others, reserved seat books will cost $19, except in the north stand where they will cost $14, and box seats will be $25 for the eight home games. The tentative contests in Columbus include two contests between the Buckeye 150-pounders and Michigan Oct. 30 and Illinois Nov. 13.

Married students may buy two books, married faculty members no more than four. Season books will be mailed a week before the Sept. 25 opener with Missouri, single game tickets a week before each game. Remaining seats will become available to the public Aug. 2.

"We look for another big season at the gate," Thomas said.

Tribe Opens 3-Game Series at Detroit

By The Associated Press

DETROIT, April 23—Cleveland's Indians open a three-game series today with the Detroit Tigers, one of the clubs they will have to beat out to finish high in the American league scramble this season.

Front-line hurlers of both teams will see action during the series. Tiger pilot Steve O'Neill is expected to shoot Freddie Hutchinson, young Art Houtteman and Hal Newhouser against the Redskins in that order.

Tribe Manager Lou Boudreau plans to use Bob Lemon today, follow with Bob Feller tomorrow and finish with Al Gettel Sunday.

Orth, Nenoff Win Armory Battle Royal

Paul Orth of Toledo, well known in wrestling circles in this vicinity, and Steve Nenoff, frustrated ex-junior heavyweight champion, eliminated three other maulers to win the battle royal at the Armory last night. Jim Spenser of Boston was the first to be physically ejected from the ring with Balk Estes of Elk City running a close second. Silent (Mute) Rattan also of Boston was third.

Coming back for the semi-final, Estes and Silent Rattan drew. Orth lost the main go to Nenoff Mutt cut Jeff down to size in a preliminary event.

Reds Top Cards —Pirates Next

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, April 23—The Redlegs of Cincinnati, home from a none too successful road trip, took no chances today in the opener of an eight-game Crosley field stand. They led with their ace—Ewell Blackwell.

With the Pittsburgh Pirates providing the opposition, today's contest had an opening day flavor, for big Blackie took the Pirates' measure, 4-1, here last Monday in the National league opener.

Manager Billy Meyer nominated Kirby Higbe to star for Pittsburgh.

With the help of two St. Louis errors, the Reds pushed over a ninth inning tally yesterday to salvage the finale of a three-game series with the Cardinals, 4-3.

Things looked bad for the Reds in the third frame as the Cards counted three runs on four hits and an error.

Cincinnati got one of these back in the next inning. With one out, Hank Sauer and Babe Young walked and then advanced a base when starter Howie Pollet threw into center field, attempting to catch Sauer off second. Sauer was nipped at the plate on Ray Lamanno's roller but Bobby Adams singled Young home.

Singles by Virg Stallcup, pinch batter Ray Mueller and Johnny Wyrostek produced another Redleg marker in the seventh and they tied it up 3-3, in the eighth as Sauer, Young and Lamanno hit safely.

Marty Marion, St. Louis shortstop, muffed a grounder by Frank Baumholtz to start the ninth. Wyrostek moved him over to third with a single to left and Baumie came home with the winning run as catcher Del Wilber dropped the relay of Sauer's short fly.

Coaltown Ups Derby Stock

By The Associated Press

LEXINGTON, Ky., April 23—Railbirds are talking of a possible one-two finish for Warren Wright's Citation and Coaltown in the Kentucky Derby.

The talk followed in the wake of yesterday's record-smashing performance by Coaltown in the Blue Grass Stakes as Keeneland's meeting closed here.

Unbeaten Coaltown removed all doubt about his ability to go the longer route with his speedy victory yesterday. The Blue Grass Stakes a mile-and-one-eighth test for the Derby, was practically over after about 50 yards.

With Jockey N. L. Pierson hustling him out of the gate, Coaltown dashed past Dixiana's Little Shy Guy soon after the start. Running smoothly and effortlessly, he won by four-and-one-half lengths over Billings. Shy Guy finished third in the six horse race.

A 10-year-old record, along with Derby hopes, went into the scrap heap when Coaltown completed his quick trip to the pay-off line in 1:49 1/5, shading one-fifth of a second from the record set by Tunica.

A baseball pitched by Bob Feller traveled 145 feet a second or 98.6 miles per hour, according to army measuring apparatus.

Toledo Child Slayer's Execution Set Tonight

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 23 — Kenneth Salter of Toledo, convicted rape-murderer, is scheduled to die tonight in the electric chair at Ohio penitentiary.

The 23-year-old printer accepted Gov. Thomas J. Herbert's refusal to grant executive clemency without comment yesterday.

He was found guilty of chloroforming and raping 11-year-old Barbara Dunn of Toledo nearly two years ago.

The Ohio pardon and parole commission, adviser on clemency to the governor, reported adversely on Salter's case yesterday. The recommendation against clemency was read over the telephone to Governor Herbert, who was in New York.

Salter varied the usual routine of a condemned prisoner. He ordered fried rabbit instead of fried chicken for his final meal. Also on the menu were shoe string potatoes, lettuce salad, corn on the cob, pickled cauliflower, strawberries and ice cream, hot rolls, coffee, cigarets and lemonade.

ACTOR NEAR DEATH FROM OVERDOSE OF SEDATIVES

By International News Service

BURBANK, Calif., April 23 — Lon Chaney Jr., burly screen actor and son of the late master of film makeup, was reported near death today in St. Joseph's hospital after swallowing an overdose of sedatives.

The 43-year-old, 6-foot, 2-inch actor whose physique won for him many roles in outdoor adventure films, staggered into his home last night gasping that he had taken "40 sleeping tablets," according to Mrs. Chaney, the actor's second wife. Ronald Chaney, 19, a son by Chaney's first marriage, confirmed Mrs. Chaney's account.

They said Chaney lurched outside to the garage where Ronald found him lying on the floor of a truck.

Chaney was given first aid and then transferred to the Burbank hospital where he was reported in critical condition.

Police quoted Ronald as saying Chaney and his present wife had had many arguments recently. Ronald's mother, the former Dorothy Hinckley, divorced the actor in 1936.

55 REGISTERED AND GRADE HOLSTEIN COWS AND HEIFERS 55

The registered cows and heifers being offered are from herds in Canada, that have been concentrating their breeding, for many years, in obtaining a high degree of quality both as to production and conformation. Many of the leading strains will have offspring in this offering.

The grade cows and heifers are Canadian purebreds, but are ineligible to register. They are of high quality and are big producers.

With green pasture in the immediate offing, this is an opportunity to profit from this, and increase the production. All the cows and heifers offered will be fresh by sale date, or close-up.

(Calves Sold Separately)

The majority of both registered and grades are first and second calf heifers. The balance, young cows. Many are calfhood vaccinated.

Four generation pedigrees furnished on all registered cows and heifers. All registration certificates transferred free of charge. State Laboratory tested.

TODAY'S BIRTHDAY

By AP Newsfeatures

SHIRLEY TEMPLE, born April 23, 1928, in Santa Monica, Calif., was a motion picture star at five, a top-rank box office money maker at seven and a retired millionaire at 12.

Movie - goers the world around thrilled to her charm and acting ability, and dozens of would-be imitators sought the secret of her success.

After several years retirement, she came back to pictures at 17 and wrote her autobiography "My Young Life."

In 1945 she was married to Sgt. John Agar, Jr., of the Army Air Forces.

One Man's Opinion

By WALTER KIERNAN

A new half dollar will be out soon and the treasury says "there will be enough for every one" ....This is the best news since the Townsend plan chilled.

* * *

In fact it will be the first time since the United States started manufacturing money that there was "enough for every one."

* * *

Apparently the government has found that a half dollar here, a half dollar there has paid off in Europe and has decided to include us in its relief program.

* * *

This coin has Ben Franklin on one side representing "thrift".... I understand there's a treasury agent on the other side representing "What's the use, we get it anyway!"

* * *

But if the treasury will just tell us now where to pick up the stuff we'll hire our own carts.

About 83 per cent of U.S. householdess are now in urban areas.
